" In folio 97 of this Manuscript Lord C. J. Hyde gives a very particular and curious Account of the Manner in which K. Charles the First, previously to passing the Petition of Rights, consulted the Judges secretly on the claimed Right of the King to commit without shewing the Cause, and on the effect which the Petition might have on his prerogative in that respect. The Questions to the Judges, and their Answers are given at length; and this Account of a Transaction which does not appear to be noticed in print, concludes with some other Circumstances which attended the passing of the Petition of Rights."

Lord Chief Baron Gilbert’s Treatise on Remainders and Reversions. Folio; on paper.

At the beginning is this Note. “This Treatise on Remainders and Reversions is one of the Manuscripts bought by me of Mrs. Lynch of Dublin.

248.

I take it to have been by Lord C. Baron Gilbert. It is a far more copious Treatise than what is to be found under the title 'Remainder' in the New Abridgement; tho' the Divisions in the latter are the same nearly as those here, and the matter there is all included in this Manuscript. This appears from a comparison of the Contents of the two, without going further; for the title 'Remainder' in the New Abridgement contains only forty-five pages in print, whereas this contains 226 pages in manuscript; and upon taking two pages of the latter for one of the former, which I think is a liberal allowance, the calculation will make the Manuscript nearly three times as large as the printed Treatise. The Introduction here is not in the printed Book.

F. HARGRAVE."

The whole of this Manuscript was printed at length in 1798, in the 5th Volume of Bacon's Abridgment, under the Article "Remainder and Reversion," by Sir Henry Gwillim.

NUM. 324.

A thin Volume in quarto, upon paper: of which a Manuscript Note in Mr. Hargrave's hand, gives the following Account:

"This Book contains an Account in the nature of a Journal of the Proceedings of, and Speeches in the House of Commons in the Parliament which first met in 1592 and was dissolved 10th. April 1593. The printed Journals of the Commons are without any matter for that Parliament. But both D'Ewes's and Townshend's Collections include its Proceedings. However the Account here is not transcribed from either, but is quite distinct, and by another hand.

"In some parts the word desunt is inserted; whence it appears that the Account is sometimes deficient.

"The author of this Account appears to have been a Member of the Commons, see fol. 5 b.

"In p. 470 of Sir Simons D'Ewes's Book he professes making occasional use of an anonymous Journal; and this seems to be the same. See fol. 19 b. and compare it with p. 481 of D'Ewes. I find also that sometimes the Speeches in Townshend are the same as here. But there are many Speeches and much other matter not in Townshend, and this probably is also applicable in some degree to D'Ewes. The Arguments on the Case of Mr. Fitzherbert as to ineligibility from Outlawry are more full here than in Townshend. Particularly there is a Speech of two or three sides by the Speaker on the 2^d of March 1592, which in Townshend is wholly omitted. See fol. 20. Upon the whole there seems to me eight or nine times more matter here than in Townshend."

NUM. 435.

Cases in B. R. 32 Geo. II. with One Case in C. B. 33 Geo. II. in the hand-writing of Mr. Hargrave. Within the Cover of this Manuscript is written "Ex Notis Francisci Filmer Armigeri."

NUM. 436—480.

Forty five Volumes of Manuscript Reports, Treatises, &c. upon subjects of Equity, by Sir Thomas Sewell, Master of the Rolls. Quarto.

436—480.

They are divided into Six Portions, or Parts, as follow.

The First Part of the Collection, Num. 436 to Num. 447 inclusive, contains Sir Thomas Sewell's References to Equity Cases. In it the Cases referred to are thrown together in a digested way, under various divisions or titles of Equity, which are not placed alphabetically, but were probably adopted by Sir Thomas from time to time as he found it convenient. The want of Alphabetical Order is compensated by an Index in another Part of the Collection which will presently be noticed.

The twelve Volumes which form this Portion of the Collection are lettered alphabetically from A. to M.

At the top of each page in each Volume is written a Division on some general head or title of Equity. Under this division are placed references to such Cases in the printed Reports, or in any Manuscript Notes in his possession as Sir Thomas Sewell thought applicable to it. The Titles of Equity and Divisions upon them adopted in the course of these Volumes are so various, and the references are so numerous and well classed upon each division, that the reader may in general expect to find almost every authority to be met with on each subject in the printed Equity Reports prior to Lord Hardwicke's having the Great Seal, or in the Manuscript Notes of Cases in Equity during his Lordship's time as Lord Chancellor and for some Years before.

The II^d. Part of the Collection, Num. 448 to 462 inclusive, contains Sir Thomas Sewell's Abridgement of Equity Cases, in fifteen Volumes: marked alphabetically from A. to N. in the same manner in which the original bundles were marked in Sir Thomas Sewell's hand, whence, with permission from his Administrators, they were transcribed.

The III^d. Part of the Collection is comprised in a single Volume, Num. 463. It contains an Alphabetical Index to the Titles and Divisions both in Sir Thomas Sewell's Equity References, and in his Equity Abridgement.

It consists of two divisions. The first and smallest is a mere alphabetical Index of general Heads or Titles of Equity, with a reference to the Page in which each head or title is to be found. The second and principal part (which, except at the latter end of the Volume where some new heads or titles with divisions upon them, or new divisions upon titles before adopted, are placed by way of Supplement,) is also alphabetical. It contains, not only the Heads or Titles of Equity, but the Division upon each of them. It further contains two columns; of which the first refers to the same Division in Sir Thomas's Equity References, and the second, which for the sake of a more strong distinction is in red ink, applies to the same Division in his Equity Abridgement. Thus, under the general head or title WILLS, one of the divisions is, "In what Cases and of what things a married Woman may make a Will;" which is followed with a reference in black ink to A. 96. in the first column, and a reference in red ink to 47 H. in the second column: the former reference meaning the 8th. Volume of References marked A. page 96. and the latter to the twelfth division of the Volume marked H. of the Equity Abridgement.

The IVth. Part of the Collection consists of twelve Volumes, Num. 464 to 475. Of these, the first Six Volumes are Copies of Notes in manuscript of the late Mr. Capper, who was a practising Barrister of eminence and extensive business in Chancery during the whole time of Lord Hardwicke's being Chancellor, and for some few Years before and after. Two of the six Volumes, (beside the regular number of the Manuscript) are marked A. N^o. 1. and A. N^o. 2. and cited accordingly both in Sir Thomas Sewell's Equity References and in his Abridgement. The other four are referred to by Sir Thomas as N^o. 1. 2. 3. 4.

These Notes by Mr. Capper reach from Michaelmas 1724 to December 1754. which latter time was about one year and a half before Lord Hardwicke's resignation of the great Seal. The next three Volumes are copies of Manuscript Notes by the late Lord Chief Justice de Gray during part of the time he practised in Chancery. They begin with July 1751 and end with June 1754. They are numbered 5. 6. 7. as a continuation, in point of reference, of the four last of Mr. Capper's Note-Books; and by those Numbers they are always cited by Sir Thomas Sewell. The next Volume of the Notes, Number 473. is lettered Perryn. It contains at the beginning a long Note of the Case of Green and Rutherford, which was heard in Chancery in 1749-50. and relates to the power of Visitors over Donations. The remainder of the Volume is expressed to contain copies of various Notes by Mr. Perryn, afterwards Mr. Baron Perryn. These Notes chiefly consist of Chancery Cases between November 1757 and December 1759, both inclusive, during the latter part of which period Lord Northington held the great Seal. But there are some few Common-Law-Cases; with a few Chancery Cases, taken by Mr. Baron Perryn in Lord Hardwicke's time, particularly the famous Case of Willoughby and Willoughby in June 1756. being one of the latest Cases determined by his Lordship; and one in which he largely entered into the doctrine concerning the right of protection from terms of Years to attend the Inheritance. The next Volume Num. 474. is entitled “Notes of Cases determined in the Courts of Chancery and Kings Bench from Michaelmas Term 1744 to Trinity Term 1757.” The last Volume of this Portion of the Manuscripts, contains, 1. Sir Thomas Sewell’s Alphabetical Index to Cases in Briefs and Manuscript Notes. p. 1—71. 2. Transcripts of Loose Papers, containing some General Rules on a few Heads of Equity. p. 73—147. 3. An Account of Sir Thomas Sewell’s Manuscripts by Mr. Hargrave. From which last, with such variations as seemed necessary to the Transcripts made for Mr. Hargrave, the present account of the Sewell Manuscripts has been principally obtained.

The Vth. Branch of the Collection consists of Three Volumes, Num. 476 to 478, containing Notes of Cases from Sir Thomas Sewell’s loose papers.

The VIth. Part of the Collection consists of two Volumes, Num. 479 and 480. The first, contains Extracts from Sir Thomas Sewell’s Briefs with his Notes of the Judgements from Hil. 1740 to Jan. 1760. The second Volume contains similar Extracts and Notes of Judgements from Jan. 1760 to Nov. 1764. With some of earlier date.

B. Hil. 1774. A Case of Quare impedit.
